MacLEOD, J. Wendell (b. 1905). Medical doctor.

Originals, n.d, 1899-1986. 2.6 m. Finding Aid No. 1680.

Dr. J. Wendell MacLeod was born in 1905 in Kingsbury, Quebec and graduated in medicine at McGill University in 1930. MacLeod practiced in Montreal and became a member of the Montreal Group for the Security of the People's Health, working closely with Norman Bethune, Francis McNaughton and Libbie Park among others. During the Second World War, MacLeod served in the Royal Canadian Navy, achieving the rank of Surgeon Commander and receiving the Order of the British Empire (Military Division). MacLeod and his wife, Jessie McGeachy practiced medicine at the Winnipeg Clinic following the war.

In 1952, MacLeod was appointed Dean of Medicine at the new medical school in Saskatoon. MacLeod consulted with and supported the government during the doctor's strike of 1960. In 1962, he came to Ottawa to become the first full-time executive officer of the Association of Canadian Medical Colleges (ACMC). MacLeod studied health care and education in Haiti, Cuba and China for various national and international bodies and assisted Health and Welfare Canada in the development of immigration standards.

Presented by Dr. J. Wendell MacLeod, Montreal, Quebec in 1986. Photographs have been transferred to the Art and Photography Division and some journals and books to the Public Archives Library.
