CANADIAN SOCIETY OF MICROBIOLOGISTS (est. 1951)

Originals, 1939-1974. 2.9 m. F.A. No. 557.

Founded in 1951, the Canadian Society of Microbiologists is the second largest biological Society in Canada. Its aims are to promote the advancement of microbiology in all its aspects and to facilitate the interchange of ideas between microbiologists in Canada and throughout the world. The membership includes scientists and students from all biological disciplines who are interested in the study, research and application of microbiology and related fields. The C.S.M. is affiliated with the Biological Council of Canada, the Association of Scientific, Engineering and Technological Community of Canada and the International Association of Microbiological Societies.

Presented by the C.S.M. through Dr. John Robinson of London, Ontario in 1974, Dr. A.J. Rhodes of Toronto in 1975 and Dr. J.J. Miller of Hamilton in 1975.

Photographs were transferred to the National Photography Collection.
