CANADA'S SPORTS HALL OF FAME

Photocopies, ca. 1890-1973. 51 cm.

Canada's Sports Hall of Fame was established in 1955 to honour those Canadians who have contributed significantly to sport in Canada, either through their success on the athletic field or in an organizational capacity.

Housed initially at the old Stanley Barracks in Toronto, it moved into its own building in 1967, built with funds raised by the people of Toronto. It occupied the east wing of the Hall of Fame building, located at the Canadian National Exhibition grounds. Photos and citations of the Honoured Members are displayed along with materials relevant to the history and heritage of sport in Canada.

Canada's Sports Hall of Fame is run by a Board of Governors made up of men active in government and business from across the country. It is funded jointly by the Fitness and Amateur Sport Program of the Department of National Health and Welfare and by the Canadian National Exhibition.

Copied in 1976 from originals in the possession of Canada's Sports Hall of Fame.

Finding aid No. 1011 consists of a nominal file list for volumes 1 and 2 and a subject file list for volumes 3-5.

Selections from the research files compiled by Dr. S.F. Wise and Douglas Fisher in the preparation of their book: Canada's Sporting Heroes, which was sponsored by Canada's Sports Hall of Fame. Included are alphabetically arranged nominal files on persons elected to the Sports Hall of Fame (Volumes 1-2) and subject files on various sports topics (Volumes 3-5).
