

ABERDEEN PAPERS

John C. Hamilton-Gordon (1847-1934), seventh Earl of Aberdeen and first Marquess of Aberdeen and Temair was educated at St. Andrews and Oxford. He was a Liberal in politics and a personal friend of Hon. W.E. Gladstone. In 1880 he was appointed Lord Lieutenant of Aberdeenshire and in 1886 Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

From 1893 to 1898 Lord Aberdeen was Governor-General of Canada. He was called upon to make a number of unusual decisions during his term of office, especially the selection of a prime minister upon the sudden death of Sir John Thompson and the refusal of a number of appointments made by the government of Sir Charles Tupper after its defeat in 1896. During his term a great deal of his attention was occupied by the Imperial Conferences of 1894 and 1897; and relations with the United States, especially the Alaska Boundary and the Behring Sea and North Atlantic fisheries.

Ishbel Maria Marjoribanks (1857-1939) whom Lord Aberdeen married in 1877, was an ardent humanitarian with an active interest in politics. She was president of the Women's Liberal Association in England and Scotland, founded the religious "Onward and Upward Association" and assisted in the establishment of the Irish Industries Association. While in Canada she founded the Victorian Order of Nurses and the Aberdeen Association (for distributing books to settlers) and was the chief motive force behind the National Council of Women. She was an interested and well-informed political observer from regular attendance at the House of Commons and friendships with leaders of both political parties.

The <sup>original</sup> Aberdeen Papers were donated to the Public Archives by Lady Pentland in 1951.
