INTRODUCTION

DONNÉES HISTORIQUES

En février 1968, le ministre de la Justice du gouvernement fédéral, Pierre Elliott Trudeau, annonçait qu'il se portait candidat à la chefferie du Parti libéral du Canada. Le 6 avril 1968, il était élu à la tête du parti. Deux semaines plus tard, il prêtait serment en tant que quinzième premier ministre du Canada.

En juin 1968, M. Trudeau disputa sa première élection à titre de premier ministre et fut reporté au pouvoir par une vague nationale qu'il convient d'appeler la "Trudeumanie". L'administration Trudeau fut réélue lors des élections générales du 30 octobre 1972 (gouvernement minoritaire) et du 8 juillet 1974. En fait, le premier ministre de M. Trudeau, le vingtième depuis le début de la Confédération, s'échelonna du 20 avril 1968 au 3 juin 1979, alors que les libéraux furent défaits par le Parti progressiste conservateur dirigé par Joe Clark, période qui fut marquée par de profonds changements au sein du système politique canadien.

Dès le départ, il était évident que Trudeau souhaitait remodeler le fédéralisme canadien. En plus de promulguer des lois telles que la Loi sur les langues officielles (1969), la Loi sur l'examen de l'investissement étranger (1973) et la Loi sur les droits de la personne (1977), de 1968 à 1979 le gouvernement Trudeau a mis en oeuvre des projets tels que la création du ministère de l'expansion économique régionale, l'imposition du contrôle des salaires et des prix (1975), le lancement d'une société pétrolière fédérale (Pétro-Canada, 1975), et l'abolition de la peine capitale (1976). Ces projets ont évidemment provoqué bien des remous. Toutefois, la décision la plus controversée de l'administration Trudeau fut probablement le recours, en octobre 1970, à la Loi sur les mesures de guerre, pour désamorcer la situation attribuable aux agissements du FLQ au Québec.

En transformant la société canadienne, le gouvernement Trudeau a jugé nécessaire de redéfinir le processus décisionnel fédéral, incluant le rôle du Cabinet des ministres, du Bureau du Conseil privé (BCP) et du Cabinet du premier ministre (CPM). Peu après son accession au pouvoir, Trudeau restructura le Cabinet des ministres en cinq grands comités: Défense et Affaires extérieures, Politique économique, Politique sociale, Sciences, culture et information, et Opérations gouvernementales. En plus de ces comités politiques, on comptait quatre comités de coordination: Législation et planification parlementaire, Relations fédérales-provinciales, le Conseil du Trésor, et le Comité des priorités et de la planification. Ce dernier, dont Trudeau et dix de ses principaux ministres faisaient partie, était desservi par une nouvelle Division de la planification au sein du BCP. Cette nouvelle division était dirigée par Michael Pitfield et devint éventuellement le principal organisme gouvernemental en matière de planification. Le 4 octobre 1974, Pitfield succéda à Gordon Robertson au poste de greffier du Conseil privé.

En ce qui a trait au CPM, il employait, en 1970, quatre-vingt cinq personnes, soit un peu plus du double des effectifs du cabinet du premier ministre Pearson (quarante employés). La moitié de ces employés étaient affectés à la Division de la correspondance, laquelle devait s'occuper d'un courrier de plus en plus volumineux. Alors qu'en 1967 le CPM disposait d'une enveloppe budgétaire de l'ordre de 331 585 $, celle-ci atteignit 900 839 $ trois ans plus tard. Voici la liste des principaux membres du personnel du CPM entre 1968 à 1979 (certaines dates sont approximatives).

Comme l'a souligné Marc Lalonde dans son étude portant sur la métamorphose du rôle du cabinet du premier ministre (qu'il a rendu public lors de la 23^e réunion annuelle de l'Institut de la fonction publique, le 8 septembre 1971), le personnel du CPM devait assumer deux grandes fonctions : servir et conseiller. Au chapitre des services, une des tâches les plus importantes consistait à traiter le courrier du premier ministre. En fait, la plupart des nouveaux employés recrutés par le CPM de 1968 à 1970 ont été affectés à la Division de la correspondance (pour de plus amples renseignements concernant cette division et ses activités, veuillez consulter l'introduction de l'instrument de recherche de la série de la Division de la correspondance, MG 26 O 16).

À l'époque des premiers ministres Diefenbaker et Pearson, le CPM classait la correspondance du premier ministre selon un système de classification idéologique inspiré du système décimal Dewey. Cependant, ce système devint vite insuffisant pour traiter le volume du courrier expédié au CPM de Trudeau qui reçut, par exemple, 135,717 lettres en

1970. Non seulement le CPM revit-il le système de classification idéologique utilisé à l'époque de Diefenbaker et de Pearson, mais il mit également sur pied un nouveau système d'archivage et, éventuellement, informatisa le traitement du courrier. Ainsi, la correspondance datant de 1968 à 1979 est divisée en cinq grandes séries répertoriées dans des fichiers et des répertoires produits par ordinateur se recoupant (pour de plus amples renseignements au sujet de ces séries, veuillez consulter l'introduction de l'instrument de recherche approprié):

- Série de la correspondance prioritaire du CPM, 1968-1978, MG 26 O 7
- Série de la correspondance générale du CPM, 1969-1978, MG 26 O 8
- Correspondance du CPM, 1978-1979, MG 26 O 9
- Série de documents secrets et très secrets du CPM, 1968-1984, MG 26 O 11
- Série de la circonscription de Mont-Royal, 1968-1984, MG 26 O 12

L'ensemble de la correspondance du CPM, de 1968 à 1978, a été divisée en deux grandes séries: la correspondance prioritaire et la correspondance générale. À l'origine, le CPM voulait organiser tout le courrier en fonction d'un système de classification unique. Toutefois, comme nous l'avons mentionné précédemment, il devint vite évident que le traitement complet de chaque article de correspondance n'était plus possible. Par conséquent, à compter du 15 septembre 1969, la plupart des lettres adressées au premier ministre ont été classées en deux catégories : la correspondance prioritaire, réservée aux articles de correspondance nécessitant un traitement complet, lesquels étaient ensuite classés par matière, et la correspondance générale, ne nécessitant qu'un traitement superficiel et étant classée par ordre chronologique.

Avec l'arrivée de ce nouveau système, tous les articles de correspondance se voyaient attribuer un numéro d'archivage de sept chiffres, le premier chiffre correspondant à l'année du document, les trois autres, au jour où il a été reçu, et les derniers, à l'ordre dans lequel chaque article a été reçu un même jour; ainsi, le sixième article de correspondance reçu le 17 septembre 1971 porterait le numéro 1/261/006, que l'on écrit habituellement 1261 006. Tous les documents connexes, comme, par exemple, les notes de services internes, les données servant à produire une réponse, et la réponse elle-même, se voyaient également attribuer ce numéro de sept chiffres.

Après octobre 1978, un fois que le système de correspondance du CPM eut été entièrement automatisé, la correspondance générale et la correspondance prioritaire ont été regroupées dans un seul système. Dès lors, tout le courrier du CPM fut classé en fonction du code de sept chiffres, aussi appelé code d'archivage.

ORGANISATION DE LA SÉRIE DE LA CORRESPONDANCE PRIORITAIRE DU CABINET DU PREMIER MINISTRE (1968-1978)

Comme son nom le suggère, la série de la correspondance prioritaire, en 758 volumes, se compose d'articles de correspondance et de notes de services de nature autre que générale, incluant des lettres de personnes importantes telles que des premiers ministres, des chefs d'entreprises, des députés et des chefs de gouvernement étrangers. Cette série comprend également des notes de service et d'information à l'intention du premier ministre, de même que des lettres auxquelles on ne pouvait répondre selon la formule habituelle ou qui nécessitaient l'intervention d'un ministère ou d'un organisme gouvernemental. La fréquence d'apposition du sceau "Seen by PM/Vu par PM" témoigne bien de l'importance des documents versés dans cette série, alors qu'on ne le retrouve que rarement dans la correspondance générale. De plus, la plupart des réponses qui se trouvent dans cette série ont été expressément rédigées aux fins d'être paraphées par le premier ministre lui-même.

La série de la correspondance prioritaire est divisée en trois grandes parties ou sous-séries de documents :

- Correspondance prioritaire, 1968-1976 (volumes 1-505, 727-733)
- Correspondance prioritaire, 1976-1978 (volumes 522-726)
- Arriérés de correspondance prioritaire, 1968-1978 (volumes 506-521, 734-740)

Examinons maintenant le contenu de chacune de ces sous-séries :

PARTIE 1: Correspondance prioritaire du CPM, 1968-1976 (volumes 1-505, 727-733)

La correspondance prioritaire du CPM datant d'avril 1968 à avril 1976 est classée par matières selon le système de classification décimal utilisé dans les cabinets des premiers ministres canadiens Diefenbaker, Pearson et Trudeau. Les documents versés dans ces dossiers sont classés par ordre chronologique inversé.

Le système fait appel à dix thèmes ou catégories idéologiques:

- 000-99 Généralités
- 100-199 Défense
- 200-299 Économie
- 300-399 Gouvernement
- 400-499 Droit
- 500-599 Ressources et développement
- 600-699 Bien-être social
- 700-799 Échanges commerciaux
- 800-899 Relations internationales
- 900-999 Histoire, géographie et biographie

Chacune de ces catégories comporte, à son tour, jusqu'à dix sous-catégories qui recourent en général les thèmes suivants:

L'instrument de recherche de cette partie de la série de la correspondance prioritaire (pp. 1-1080) contient la liste des dossiers par ordre numérique, depuis le numéro 001 jusqu'au numéro 999. Une description plus détaillée et un répertoire de base du système sont également disponibles (voir les dossiers relatifs aux systèmes de classification idéologique pour les années 1968 à 1976 dans le volume 44 de la série de la Division de la correspondance, MG 26 O 16; le dossier "1968-1984, Reference Material/Ouvrages de consultation - Système de classification idéologique pour la correspondance prioritaire de 1968 à 1976 - document de travail" contient également deux autres tableaux de classification utilisés de pair avec les catégories idéologiques susmentionnées: Pays étrangers et Ministères fédéraux). De plus, la sous-série toute entière est répertoriée sur des fiches nominales et idéologiques qui occupent huit classeurs de huit tiroirs. Ces fiches ont fait l'objet de répertoires qui ont tous été microfilmés et se trouvent sur les bobines suivantes :

- Bobines xxxxx - xxxxx: répertoire nominal 1968, 14 sept. 1969
- Bobines xxxxx - xxxxx: répertoire nominal 1968 - 1976
- Bobines xxxxx - xxxxx: répertoire idéologique 1968 - 1976
- Bobines xxxxx - xxxxx: registre d'archivage, 1969 - 1976

Soulignons que de septembre 1969 à avril 1976, la série de la correspondance générale du CPM, MG 26 O 8, servit, en quelque sorte, de registre chronologique de la correspondance officielle du premier ministre. Ainsi, bon nombre de lettres prioritaires ont été intercalées, par ordre chronologique, dans les dossiers de la correspondance générale.

PARTIE 2 : Correspondance prioritaire du CPM, 1976-1978 (volumes 522 - 726)

La série de la correspondance prioritaire du CPM, 1976-1978, abrite des documents datés d'avril 1976 à septembre 1978, période où le cabinet du premier ministre Trudeau a mis en place la nouvelle version du système de classification décimale utilisé de 1968 à 1976. Tout comme pour la correspondance prioritaire de 1968 à 1976, les dossiers étaient classés, et inscrits dans l'instrument de recherche (pp. 1081 à 1524), par ordre numérique; toutefois, contrairement à la sous-série prioritaire, les dossiers sont regroupés par bloc correspondant à une année précise. Les documents versés dans ces dossiers sont classés par ordre chronologique inversé.

Le système fait appel à quarante et un grands thèmes ou catégories idéologiques :

- 0101 Agriculture
- 0201 Arts
- 0301 Récompenses
- 0401 Centenaire et anniversaires
- 0501 Préservation
- 0601 Construction
- 0701 Défense
- 0801 Économie
- 0901 Éducation
- 1001 Énergie, mines et ressources

1101	Pêches
1201	Affaires extérieures
1301	Forêts
1401	Gouvernement - Fédéral
1501	Gouvernement - Ministères et organismes fédéraux
1601	Gouvernement - Relations fédérales-provinciales
1701	Gouvernement - Provincial
1801	Gouvernement - Municipal
1901	Santé et bien-être social
2001	Histoire, géographie, biographies

3801	Anciens combattants
3901	Plumes fertiles (individus qui écrivent très souvent)
4001	Circonscription électorale
4101	Conférences

Une description plus détaillée des catégories et sous-catégories dont se compose ce système se trouve dans deux des dossiers du système de classification utilisé de 1976 à 1978, plus précisément dans le volume 44 de la série de la Division de la correspondance, MG 26 O 16. (Ces dossiers contiennent également une liste de deux autres tableaux de classification qu'on utilisera de pair aux catégories idéologiques suivantes : Affaires extérieures et Ministères fédéraux.) De plus, il existe trois répertoires exhaustifs des fiches préparées pour cette série. Ces répertoires, dont les entrées sont classées par ordre alphabétique, correspondent à trois années précises (1976, 1977 et 1978); ils sont offerts en version microfilm sur les bobines H-1834 à H-1850.

De plus, vers la fin de 1977, le cabinet du premier ministre Trudeau entreprit d'informatiser le traitement de sa correspondance; nous disposons par conséquent aussi d'un répertoire produit par ordinateur pour l'année 1978 (comme nous l'avons déjà mentionné, depuis Octobre 1978, les séries de la correspondance générale et de la correspondance prioritaires ont été fondues en un même système chronologique). Les répertoires produits par ordinateur (volumes 741-758, instrument de recherche pp. 1539-1540) se trouvent sur les bobines xxxxx-xxxxx et sont divisés en deux parties:

Répertoire des numéros d'archivage, 1978, (vol. 741): bobine xxxxx

Répertoire nominal, 1978, (volumes 742-758): bobines xxxxx-xxxxx

Dans les répertoires produits par ordinateur, les numéros d'archivage se composent de huit chiffres: un code de date composé de quatre chiffres suivi d'un trait d'union et d'un numéro d'article, lui aussi composé de quatre chiffres (habituellement, on ne tient pas compte du premier chiffre du dernier numéro lorsqu'on cherche un document précis puisque le numéro d'archivage inscrit sur les documents se compose pratiquement toujours de sept chiffres. Par exemple, le document n° 8035 006 deviendra, dans le répertoire produit par ordinateur, 8035-0006. En plus de contenir les numéros d'archivage, les répertoires, qui correspondent à la fois aux documents généraux et aux documents prioritaires (ainsi qu'au volet octobre-décembre 1978 de MG 26 O 9), précisent la date à laquelle on a répondu à chaque lettre ainsi que les initiales du membre du personnel du CPM qui a rédigé la réponse. Les répertoires fournissent aussi un code de classification des dossiers pour la correspondance prioritaire; on utilisera ces données de concert avec l'instrument de recherche pour trouver des documents. De même, pratiquement toutes les lettres se sont vues apposer un code d'identification ainsi qu'un code idéologique. On identifiait les documents au moyen d'un des trois codes d'identification suivants:

00 - Généralités

01 - Priorité

02 - Expédier

Les codes idéologiques étaient composés d'une lettre et d'un numéro d'un ou de deux chiffres. L'annexe contient la liste des codes idéologiques. Les personnes qui cherchent des codes idéologiques composés d'une lettre et d'un seul chiffre ne doivent pas oublier que ces codes comportent toujours un autre chiffre, un zéro, et sont suivis d'un point décimal et de deux chiffres additionnels, habituellement des zéros). Par exemple, J4, le code pour "Affaires extérieures - États-Unis d'Amérique", devient J04.00 dans le répertoire produit par ordinateur de la correspondance de l'année 1978.

Soulignons également que les dossiers 3901, où sont classés les lettres provenant d'individus à la "plume fertile", et que les dossiers 4001, concernant la circonscription du premier ministre, ont été extraits de la série par la Division de la correspondance du premier ministre et constitués en séries distinctes. Les dossiers 3901 n'ont pas été conservés par les Archives nationales du Canada et les dossiers concernant la circonscription (1976-1978) se trouvent dans les volumes 41 à 55 de la série de la circonscription de Mont-Royal, MG 26 O 12.

De plus, lors du traitement de la correspondance prioritaire de 1976 à 1978, on a découvert qu'un certain nombre d'erreurs d'encodage se sont produites lorsque le personnel de la

Division de la correspondance du CPM a adopté le nouveau système de classification. À chaque fois que cela s'est avéré possible, les bons codes ont été inscrits entre crochets et des renvois ont été insérés dans la liste des dossiers.

Enfin, soulignons qu'un petit nombre de lettres prioritaires adressées au premier ministre en 1978 n'ont pu être traitées et classifiées qu'en 1979, de sorte que les répertoires produits par ordinateur relatifs au volet 1979 de la correspondance de 1978-1979 (MG 26 O 9) contiennent également certains documents prioritaires. Ces répertoires sont divisés en deux parties :

Répertoire nominal (volumes 96-101) : bobines xxxxx - xxxxx
 Numéro d'archivage (vol. 102) : bobine xxxxx

PARTIE 3: Correspondance prioritaire du CPM, 1968-1978, Arriérés (volumes 506-521 et 734-739)

Bien que la Division de la correspondance du cabinet du premier ministre Trudeau ait réussi beaucoup mieux que certains de ses prédécesseurs à traiter le volume important de courrier qu'elle recevait tous les jours (vingt pour cent de la correspondance envoyée au premier ministre Diefenbaker n'était pas traitée), on accusait tout de même un certain retard dans le traitement de la correspondance alors que certaines lettres n'étaient traitées qu'en partie, ou même pas du tout. Environ 75 p. 100 de ces documents non traités ou traités en retard (arriérés) datent de 1975 et cet état de choses est probablement attribuable aux activités auxquelles la Division de la correspondance devait se livrer en préparation de la mise en oeuvre, en avril 1976, d'un système de classification révisé. D'autres documents semblent avoir été conservés par des analystes de la correspondance ou d'autres membres du personnel et n'ont tout simplement pas été classifiés lorsqu'on les a finalement remis à la division.

Les documents arriérés sont énumérés aux pages 1525 à 1538 de l'instrument de recherche et se résument comme suit :

ARRIÉRÉS de 1968 (vols. 734 à 736)

Documents remontant jusqu'à avril 1968, époque de transition où Trudeau abandonna le poste de ministre de la Justice et devint premier ministre. La plupart de ces documents traitent de sa campagne à la chefferie du Parti libéral et sont classés par ordre alphabétique.

ARRIÉRÉS de 1968-1969 (vol. 737)

Documents datés de 1968 jusqu'au 14 septembre 1969, classés au moyen de codes idéologiques, selon le système de classification de la correspondance prioritaire en vigueur de 1968 à 1976.

ARRIÉRÉS de 1969-1972 (volumes 737 et 738)

Documents datés du 15 septembre 1969 jusqu'en 1972, également classés au moyen de codes idéologiques.

ARRIÉRÉS de 1975 (volumes 506 à 521)

Comme nous l'avons déjà souligné, ces documents datent de l'époque où le CPM s'apprêtait à adopter une version révisée du système de classification ainsi qu'un nouveau système d'archivage de la correspondance. La première partie de ces documents est classée par ordre chronologique de codes d'archivage, la deuxième partie se compose d'objets de correspondance et de notes de service classés alphabétiquement selon le nom du correspondant; enfin, la troisième partie comprend un nombre minime de dossiers portant sur divers sujets.

ARRIÉRÉS de 1976-1978 (volumes 738 et 739)

Ces documents représentent les arranges de la correspondance prioritaire datant de 1976 à 1978. Il s'agit principalement de lettres non codées et classées par ordre alphabétique.

Soulignons que la série de la Division de la correspondance, MG 26 O 16, contient également certains arriérés datés de 1968 à 1976.

DOCUMENTS ÉLIMINÉS OU CONFIÉS À D'AUTRES DIVISIONS

Lors du traitement de la série de la correspondance prioritaire du CPM, certains des documents qu'elle contenait ont été confiés aux divisions appropriées des Archives nationales. On a de plus éliminé certaines publications, ainsi que des souvenirs et divers articles ne présentant aucune valeur historique. Tous les articles éliminés ont été répertoriés au moyen du formulaire d'usage. Voici la liste des articles qui ont été confiés à d'autres divisions de la Direction des ressources historiques des Archives nationales.

Division de la photographie et des oeuvres d'art documentaire: 372 photographies, 9 oeuvres d'art originales ou reproductions, 34 brochures et épinglettes.

Division des archives cartographiques et audio-visuelles: 27 bandes sonores.

De plus, un certain nombre de bandes sonores disponibles sur le marché ont été remises à la Division de la musique de la Bibliothèque nationale.

SÉRIES CONNEXES

Comme nous l'avons mentionné précédemment (voir la page 5 du présent document), la série de la correspondance prioritaire n'est qu'une des cinq séries de la correspondance du CPM touchant la période s'échelonnant de 1968 à 1979. De plus, il ne faut pas oublier que la série de la Division de la correspondance, MG 26 O 16, contient bon nombre de documents relatifs au traitement de la correspondance prioritaire ainsi que certaines notes de service et des cahiers d'informations reliés à la correspondance prioritaire, ou retirés de celle-ci, au même titre que la petite série de notes de service et de cahiers d'informations MG 26 O 19. Les séries suivantes sont reliées aux séries de la correspondance du CPM et contiennent également des documents datant de l'époque du premier "règne" de M. Trudeau:

Série du Bureau de presse, MG 26 O 13

Série du Bureau des communications, MG 26 O 14

Série du Bureau de planification, MG 26 O 15

Série du personnel du CPM, MG 26 O 19

(Nous nous devons aussi de souligner que certains articles de correspondance personnelle datés de 1968 à 1978 ont été retirés de la série prioritaire et versés à la série de la correspondance personnelle, MG 26 O 20; cependant, on retrouve nombre d'exemplaires de certaines de ces lettres dans la série prioritaire.)

TENEUR DOCUMENTAIRE

La série de la correspondance prioritaire du CPM, 1968 à 1978, est, de toute évidence, la plus importante des séries constituées avec les fonds documentaires du très honorable Pierre Elliott Trudeau. Elle témoigne éloquemment des problèmes et des préoccupations des Canadiens à cette époque et met en lumière le déroulement du processus décisionnel au sein du cabinet du premier ministre et la mise en oeuvre des décisions qui en résultaient. Lorsqu'on l'utilise de concert avec les séries connexes de la correspondance du CPM et celles des différents bureaux du CPM, cette série, bien structurée et répertoriée de fond en comble, s'avère une source documentaire très précieuse pour quiconque souhaite étudier la société canadienne pendant la première décennie de l'administration Trudeau.

BACKGROUND

In February 1968, the federal Minister of Justice, Pierre Elliott Trudeau, declared his candidacy for the leadership of the Liberal Party of Canada. On 6 April 1968 he was elected leader of the party. Two weeks later, he was sworn in as Canada's fifteenth Prime Minister.

In June 1968, Trudeau contested his first election as Prime Minister and found himself returned to power on a wave of country wide "Trudeaumania." The Trudeau government remained in office following the general elections of 30 October 1972 (minority government) and 8 July 1974. In fact, Trudeau's first ministry -- Canada's twentieth since Confederation -- lasted from 20 April 1968 to 3 June 1979 (when the Liberals were defeated by the Progressive Conservative Party led by Joe Clark), a period of profound change within the Canadian political system.

From the outset, it was clear that Trudeau sought to reshape Canadian federalism. In addition to enacting legislation such as the Official Languages Act (1969), the Foreign Investment Review Act (1973), and the Human Rights Act (1977), the Trudeau government of the 1968-79 period was responsible for such measures as the creation of the Department of Regional Economic Expansion (1969), the imposition of wage and price controls (1975), the launching of a government-owned national oil company -- Petro-Canada -- (1975), and the abolition of capital punishment (1976). Not surprisingly, many of these initiatives generated controversy. The Trudeau government's most controversial measure, however, was probably its invocation, in October 1970, of the War Measures Act in response to the FLQ crisis in Quebec.

In transforming Canadian society, the Trudeau government found it necessary to redefine the federal decision-making process, including the roles of the Cabinet, the Privy Council Office (PCO) and the Prime Minister's Office (PMO). Not long after becoming Prime Minister, Trudeau reorganized the Cabinet into five major committees: External Affairs and Defence; Economic Policy; Social Policy; Science, Culture, and Information; and Government Operations. In addition to these policy committees, there were four coordinating committees: Legislation and House Planning; Federal-Provincial Relations; the Treasury Board; and the Priorities and Planning Committee. The latter committee, which included Trudeau and about ten of his most senior Cabinet ministers, was served by a new planning division within PCO. This new division was headed by Michael Pitfield and eventually became the central planning agency of government. On 4 October 1974, Pitfield succeeded Gordon Robertson as the Clerk of the Privy Council.

As for the PMO, by 1970 it had more than doubled in size to 85 people (the Pearson PMO had a staff of 40), over half of whom worked in the Correspondence Division, which was responsible for the ever-increasing volume of mail and memoranda received by the office. Whereas the PMO budget was $331,585 in 1967, three years later it had risen to $900,839. The principal PMO staff members for the 1968-79 period were as follows (in some instances, dates are approximate):

PRINCIPAL SECRETARY

Marc Lalonde (1968-72)
Martin O'Connell (1972-74)
Jack Austin (1974-75)
Jim Coutts (1975-79)

EXECUTIVE ASSISTANT

Gordon Gibson (1968-70)

APPOINTMENTS SECRETARY

Sheila Cook (1968-69)
Madeleine Lafleur (1969-79)

NOMINATIONS SECRETARY

Marie-Hélène Fox (1975-79)

As Marc Lalonde noted in his paper "The Changing Role of the Prime Minister's Office" (delivered to the 23rd Annual Meeting of the Institute of Public Administration on 8 September 1971), the PMO staff had two essential responsibilities -- one service, the other advisory. A major component of the former responsibility was the processing of the Prime Minister's correspondence. In fact, most of the new staff members added to the PMO during the 1968-70 period worked in the Correspondence Division (for more information about this division and its responsibilities, see the introduction to the finding aid for the Correspondence Division Series, MG 26 O 16).

During the Diefenbaker and Pearson eras, the PMO had arranged the Prime Minister's correspondence in a comprehensive subject classification system based on the Dewey decimal system. However, the volume of mail arriving in the Trudeau PMO soon precluded the full utilization of this system for all correspondence (in 1970, for example, the office received 135,717 letters). Furthermore, the Trudeau PMO not only eventually revised the subject classification system that had been utilized by Diefenbaker and Pearson, but also introduced a new accessioning system and, eventually, computer automation. As a result, the Trudeau PMO correspondence for the 1968-79 period is divided into five main series that are indexed in a variety of card indexes and computer print-outs (for more information on each series, see the appropriate finding aid introduction):

- 1968-1978 PMO Priority Correspondence Series, MG 26 O 7
- 1969-1978 PMO General Correspondence Series, MG 26 O 8
- 1978-1979 PMO Correspondence, MG 26 O 9
- 1968-1984 PMO Secret and Top Secret Series, MG 26 O 11
- Mount Royal Constituency Series, 1968-1984, MG 26 O 12

The bulk of the PMO correspondence from the 1968-78 period is found in two main series: Priority Correspondence and General Correspondence. Initially, the Trudeau PMO endeavoured to organize all incoming correspondence in a single classification system. However, as noted above, it soon became apparent that the full processing of each piece of correspondence was no longer possible. As a result, beginning on 15 September 1969, most of the prime minister's correspondence was divided into two main parts: Priority Correspondence, which received full processing and was arranged in subject files, and General Correspondence, which was processed in a limited fashion and arranged chronologically.

With the introduction of this new system, all correspondence was registered with a seven-digit accession number, in which the first digit signified the year of the document, the next three the day on which it was received, and the last three the number assigned to each consecutive piece of correspondence received that day (for instance, the sixth item received on 17 September 1971 would be numbered 1/261/006, usually written 1261 006). All related documents -- such as internal memos, information used to draft replies, and replies -- were also assigned the same seven-digit number.

After October 1978, when the PMO correspondence system was fully automated, both General and Priority correspondence were recombined in a single system. From this point on, all PMO correspondence was arranged according to the seven-digit date codes (or accession numbers).

THE 1968-1978 PRIME MINISTER'S OFFICE PRIORITY CORRESPONDENCE - SERIES ORGANIZATION

As its name suggests, the Priority Correspondence (758 volumes) consisted of less-routine correspondence and memoranda, including letters from VIPs such as premiers, heads of organizations, members of parliament, and heads of foreign governments. The series also included memos and briefing notes for the Prime Minister, as well as letters that required a response that could not be covered by a standard letter or one that necessitated input from a government department or agency. One measure of the series' significance is the frequency of "Seen by PM/Vu par PM" stamps that one finds on the letters, something which is rarely encountered in the General Correspondence. Furthermore, more of the replies in the Priority Correspondence Series were actually drafted for the Prime Minister's signature.

Within the Priority Series, there are three main parts or sub-series:

- 1968-1976 Priority Correspondence (volumes 1-505, 727-733)
- 1976-1978 Priority Correspondence (volumes 522-726)
- 1968-1978 Priority Correspondence Backlog (volumes 506-521, 734-740)

Each of these sub-series warrants a separate description.

PART 1: 1968-1976 PMO PRIORITY CORRESPONDENCE (VOLS. 1-505, 727-733)

The 1968-1976 PMO Priority Correspondence, which dates from April 1968 to April 1976, is organized according to a subject filing system based on a decimal classification that was adopted by the offices of three Canadian prime ministers: Diefenbaker, Pearson, and Trudeau. Within files, documents are in reverse chronological order.

The system utilized ten broad subject areas or classes:

- 000-99 General
- 100-199 Defence
- 200-299 Economy
- 300-399 Government
- 400-499 Law
- 500-599 Resources and Development
- 600-699 Social Welfare
- 700-799 Trade and Commerce
- 800-899 World Relations
- 900-999 History, Geography and Biography

Each class was, in turn, further divided into as many as ten divisions, which can be summarized as follows:

- 000 GENERAL
- 010 Philosophy
- 020 Education
- 040 Language and Ethnic Groups
- 050 Pure Science
- 060 Applied Science
- 070 Arts and Recreation
- 080 Literature
- 100 DEFENCE
- 110 Navy
- 120 Army
- 130 Air Force
- 140 Civil Defence
- 150 Defence Research
- 160 Defence Production
- 170 Defence Expenditure
- 180 War

The finding aid for this part of the Priority Series (pp. 1-1080) provides a list of files in numeric order, starting with 001 and ending with 999. A more detailed description and a basic index of the system are also available (see the files relating to the 1968-1976 subject classification system in volume 44 of the Correspondence Division Series, MG 26 O 16; file "1968-1984 Reference Material/Ouvrages de consultation - Subject Classification System for the 1968-1976 Priority Correspondence -Working Copy" also contains a listing of two other classification tables that were used in conjunction with the above subject classes: Foreign Countries and Federal Departments.) In addition, the entire sub-series is indexed both by name and by subject in a comprehensive card index that occupies 8 8-drawer cabinets. The card index is available to researchers on microfilm and is found on the following reels:

Reels xxxxx - xxxx: Nominal Index 1968-14 Sept. 1969

Reels xxxxx - xxxx: Nominal Index 1968-1976

Reels xxxxx - xxxx: Subject Index 1968-1976

Reels xxxxx - xxxx: Accession Register 1969-1976

It should be noted that from September 1969 to April 1976, the PMO General Correspondence Series, MG 26 O 8, served as a kind of chronological registry for non-secret PMO correspondence, so that copies of many Priority letters were interfiled, in chronological order, with the General Correspondence.

PART 2: 1976-1978 PMO PRIORITY CORRESPONDENCE (VOLS. 522-726)

The 1976-1978 PMO Priority Correspondence Series dates from April 1976 to September 1978, a period when the Trudeau PMO introduced a revised version of the decimal classification system that had been utilized during the 1968-1976 period. As was the case with the 1968-1976 Priority Correspondence, the files are arranged, and listed in the finding aid (pp. 1081-1524), in numeric order; however, unlike the previous Priority sub-series, the files are organized in annual blocks by year. Within files, documents are in reverse chronological order.

The revised classification system utilized 41 broad subject areas or classes:

- 0101 Agriculture
- 0201 Arts
- 0301 Awards
- 0401 Centennial and Anniversary Celebrations
- 0501 Conservation
- 0601 Construction
- 0701 Defence
- 0801 Economy
- 0901 Education
- 1001 Energy, Mines, and Resources Development
- 1101 Fisheries
- 1201 Foreign Affairs
- 1301 Forestry
- 1401 Government - Federal
- 1501 Government - Federal Departments, Boards
- 1601 Government - Federal Provincial Relations
- 1701 Government - Provincial
- 1801 Government - Municipal
- 1901 Health and Social Welfare
- 2001 History, Geography, Biography
- 2101 Immigration and Citizenship
- 2201 Indian and Eskimo Affairs
- 2301 Labour Relations
- 2401 Language and Ethnic Groups
- 2501 Law
- 2601 Libraries, Galleries, and Museums

2701	Literature
2801	Political Parties
2901	Populations and Vital Statistics
3001	Recreations and Sports

A more detailed description of the various classes and sub-classes within the system can be found in two files on the 1976-1978 subject classification system in volume 44 of the Correspondence Division Series, MG 26 O 16. (These files also contain a listing of two other classification tables that were used in conjunction with the above subject classes: Foreign Countries and Federal Departments.) In addition, there are three comprehensive nominal card indexes relating to the series. The indexes, which are in alphabetical order in three yearly sections (1976, 1977, 1978), have been microfilmed and are available on reels H-1834 - H-1850.

Furthermore, late in 1977 the Trudeau PMO began to computerize the processing of its correspondence, so that a print-out index for the 1978 period is also available (as noted above, from October 1978 on, both the General and Priority correspondence series were combined in one chronological system). The print outs (volumes 741-758, finding aid pp. 1539-1540) are found on reels xxxxx - xxxx and are divided into 2 parts:

- 1978 Accession-Number Index (vol. 741): reel xxxxx
- 1978 Nominal Index (vols. 742-758): reels xxxxx - xxxx

Within the print out indexes, accession numbers are listed in two parts: a four-digit date code followed by a hyphen and then a four-digit item number (the first digit of the latter number should usually be disregarded when searching for specific documents, as the accession numbers on the documents are almost always comprised of seven numbers -- i.e. document no. 8035 006 will be listed as 8035-0006 in the index). In addition to accession numbers, the indexes, which refer to both Priority and General documents (and also the October-December 1978 portion of MG 26 O 9), indicate the date of the reply to each letter and the initials of the PMO staff member who prepared the reply. The indexes also provide a file classification code for Priority correspondence; such references can be used in conjunction with the finding aid to find documents. As well, virtually all letters received an ID code and a subject code. The ID code consisted of one of three numbers:

- 00 - General
- 01 - Priority
- 02 - Outgoing

Subject codes were comprised of a letter and a one- or two-digit number. A listing of the subject codes is found in the Appendix. When looking for subject codes comprised of a letter and a single digit, researchers should keep in mind that such codes are entered with an extra digit (a zero) and are followed by a decimal point and two additional digits (again, usually zeros). For example, J4, the code for "Foreign Affairs - United States of America," is listed as J04.00 in the print-out index for the 1978 correspondence.

It should also be noted that the 3901 files, devoted to prolific writers, and the 4001 files, relating to the Prime Minister's constituency, were removed from the series by the PMO Correspondence Division and formed separate series. The 3901 files were not retained by the National Archives of Canada, while the 1976-78 constituency files are found in volumes 41-55 of the Mount Royal Constituency Series, MG 26 O 12.

Furthermore, during the processing of the 1976-1978 Priority Correspondence, it was discovered that a number of coding errors were made as the PMO Correspondence Division staff adjusted to the new classification system. Whenever possible, the correct codes have been noted in brackets, and cross-references have been inserted throughout the file list.

Finally, it should be noted that a small number of 1978 Priority letters were not processed or inputted until 1979, so that the computer-generated indexes relating to the 1979 portion of the 1978-1979 PMO Correspondence (MG 26 O 9) also include references to some Priority documents. These indexes are divided into two parts:

- Nominal (volumes 96-101): reels xxxxxx - xxxxxx
- Accession Number (vol. 102): reel xxxxx

PART 3: 1968-1978 PMO PRIORITY - BACKLOG FILES (VOLS. 506-521, 734-739)

Although the Trudeau PMO Correspondence Division was far more successful than some of its predecessors in gaining control over the large quantity of mail that arrived daily in the PMO (for example, nearly 20% of the Diefenbaker PMO correspondence remained unprocessed), there was some backlog material that was either unprocessed or only partially processed. About 75% of this material dates from 1975 and probably can be attributed to the Correspondence Division's preparations for the introduction of the revised classification system in April 1976. Other material seems to have been retained by correspondence analysts or other staff members and was simply not integrated when finally returned to the Correspondence Division.

The various runs of backlog material are listed on pages 1525-1538 of the finding aid and can be summarized as follows:

1968 BACKLOG (Vols. 734-736)

This material dates from April 1968 and Trudeau's transition from the Minister of Justice to Prime Minister. Much of the material relates to his campaign for the Liberal leadership. Most of the correspondence is arranged alphabetically.

1968-1969 BACKLOG (Vol. 737)

This material dates from the 1968-14 September 1969 period and is arranged by subject code, according to the 1968-1976 Priority Correspondence classification system.

1969-1972 BACKLOG (Vols. 737-738)

This material dates from 15 September 1969-1972 period and is also arranged by subject code.

1975 BACKLOG (Vols. 506-521)

As noted above, this material dates from the period when the PMO was preparing to introduce a revised classification system, as well as a new correspondence-accessioning system. The first part of the material is arranged chronologically by accession code; the second part is comprised of correspondence and then memos arranged alphabetically by correspondent's name; and the third part consists of a small run of miscellaneous subject files.

1976-1978 BACKLOG (Vols. 738-739)

This material represents the backlog from the 1976-1978 Priority Correspondence and consists largely of uncoded letters arranged in chronological order.

It should also be noted that the Correspondence Division Series, MG 26 O 16, also contains some backlog material from the 1968-76 period.

REMOVALS FOR TRANSFER OR DISPOSITION

During the processing of the Priority Series some photographs, documentary art, audio-visual material, and cartographic material were removed for transfer to the appropriate divisions within the National Archives of Canada. In addition, some publications, memorabilia, and other non-historical items were removed for disposition. All removals were documented with removals sheets. The following provides a summary of the transfers from the Priority Series to other divisions of the National Archives' Historical Resources Branch:

Documentary Art and Photography Division: 372 photos, 9 pieces of original artwork or printed material, 34 buttons and pins.

Cartographic and Audio-Visual Archives Division: 27 audio tapes.

As well, a number of commercial recordings were transferred to the Music Division of the National Library of Canada.

RELATED SERIES

As noted above (see page 5), the Priority Correspondence Series is one of five PMO correspondence series relating to the 1968-1979 period. Furthermore, it should be stressed that the Correspondence Division Series, MG 26 O 16, contains a good deal of material concerning the processing of the Priority Correspondence and also includes some memoranda and briefing books related to, or removed from, the Priority Correspondence, as does the small Briefing Books and Memoranda Series, MG 26 O 19. The following PMO-related series also contain material from the first Trudeau ministry:

Press Office Series, MG 26 O 13

Communications Office Series, MG 26 O 14

Planning Office Series, MG 26 O 15

PMO Staff Series, MG 26 O 19

(It should also be noted that some personal correspondence from the 1968-1978 period was removed from the Priority Series to the Personal Correspondence Series, MG 26 O 20; however, copies of such letters are often found in the Priority Series.)

RESEARCH POTENTIAL

The 1968-1978 PMO Priority Correspondence Series is clearly one of the most important series found in the Rt. Hon. Pierre Elliott Trudeau papers and documents not only the issues and concerns that confronted Canadians during the 1968-1978 period, but also the decision-making process within the PMO and the way in which policy was formulated and implemented. When used in conjunction with the related PMO correspondence series and the papers of various PMO offices and staff members, this well-organized and thoroughly indexed series will prove to be a valuable source for anyone studying Canadian society during the first decade of the Trudeau era.
