opposition arguments against resolution:

- 1) recommendations of McNair Comm. not binding upon govt. of Canada;
- 2) leader of opposition praises generosity of federal govt. - Mr. Fulton had attempted to reconcile Newfoundland - P.M. Diefenbaker in television messages told the people that the fed. govt. had given millions of dollars to Newfoundland - Mr. Brown, Newfoundland member in H. of C. spoke of millions for Newfoundland - but generosity of fed. govt. is not a favour that other provinces don't get;
- 3) recommendation of 8 millions given by McNair Report is not sufficient - Mr. Smallwood agrees;
- 4) term 29 is retained in preamble of Newfoundland Additional Grants Act - Mr. Smallwood argues that recommendations of McNair report are in theory not binding - sense of honour of members of federal govt. is only binding factor - but Dief. govt. has dishonoured Canada and Newfoundland - preamble of Act mentions Term 29 only but does not retain term 29 in total - preamble states that grant accorded by a further act will be final and irrevocable settlement.
