FRED H. BROWN COLLECTION

accession number

<sup>13 Dec</sup>
Fred H. Brown (b. Toronto, 1907) is a pianist, lecturer on music appreciation and CBC producer of recorded music programs (retired 1972). At times he uses the name F. Renwick Brown (Renwick being his mother's maiden name). He donated a number of concert programs, newspaper clippings relating to his own career or that of his teacher Mona Bates and other Canadian musicians. (See gift record book). These materials are filed in the appropriate biographical and program files.

The following three letters are filed in the Manuscripts & Papers section under the Fred H. Brown Collection: received 12 Sep 1973.

1. Sir Bernard Heinze to F.H. Brown, 20.5.1953
2. Aaron Copland to F. H. Brown, 5.10.1960
3. Aaron Copland to F. H. Brown, 18.11.1960
[The book he received was Kallmann's History of Music in Canada 1534-1914].
