Story: Arrival of CWAC personnel to back up the Canadian Attack

These CWAC personnel (1 Principal Matron, 2 Captains and 14 O.R.'s) embarked from Gosport several days ago on an American L.S.T. They were to land at Mike Beach, Courselles but owing to fog had to change their location and came in at Arromanches Beach. We did not reach their new location in time to get ship and landing shots. We managed to catch them just as they had debused. Their first ~~was~~ consideration was their looks. Out came powder, lipstick and combs. As soon as they were settled they wanted to know how far they were from the Canadian Front Lines and were quite disappointed to find that they would not be near our lads. They were all thrilled at the fact of being on French soil but were a little leary of things to come.
