CANADIANS IN ENGLAND

PHOTOGRAPHER: Lieut. A.A. Schrag - 8 Aug 44.

UNIT: 1 CACRU.

LOCATION: Inkerman Barracks, Woking, Surrey.

OCCASION: Training Tankmen.

38198 - An unending quiz program is the price of efficiency. But the usual procedure of kit inspection is varied in CACRU. The men hold up the various articles of kit, and the job is done more quickly. The inspectees get a bit of exercise, too. Here Lt. E.C. Kirk, Montreal, and SQMS D.E. Scott of Edmonton make sure that the men have all the articles that they have been issued with.

UNIT: 3 CACRU

LOCATION: Frensham Commons, Surrey.

38199 - Tanks rumble over the training area all day, every day.

38200 - Lt. D.G. Bell, Vancouver, and Lt. G.E. Leguillette, Montreal, control the manouvres of the tanks from a point that overlooks the hundreds of acres of sand and scrub.

38201 - Dust and petrol fumes are the daily diet of the 38202 drivers until they are letter-perfect in the 38203 handling of their machines, and in receiving and
38204 sending radio instructions.
38205

38206 - Dust and heat, or mud and cold and mud, the job
38207 must be done in a soldierly manner. The tanks after manouvres, line up for instruction and maintenance.

UNIT: 2 CACRU

LOCATION: Thursley, Surrey.

38208 - Under a boiling sun, dress regulations don't count. Tpr. J.R. Benoit, of Tracaday, N.B., gets down to business.

38209 - After the days work in dungarees or slacks, the men like that well-groomed appearance. Battle-dress is hung carefully and the day's work is done in overalls or stripped to the waist.

UNIT: 1 CACRU

LOCATION: Inkerman Barracks, Woking, Surrey.

38210 - The Officer Commanding the Reinforcement Unit, Col. A.T. Patterson, has a few brief, friendly tips for the new arrivals from Canada.

38211 - New recruits from Canada, with full kit, swing through the arch of an English barracks.

38212 - There's no use in being able to drive a tank
38213 if you don't know where you are or how to get
38214 where you are going. And what better place to study map reading than in the open air? Lt. C.B.H. Young of Montreal conducts his classes beside a grassy bank.

continued

38215 - Men must work in the Armoured Corps, but dogs may sleep. "Pedal", a nondescript bundle of canine wool, is one of the devoted camp-followers of the "tankers".

UNIT: 3 CACRU
LOCATION: Bagshot Park, Surrey.

38216 - The Basic Camp's Sgt.-Maj., J.L. Fougère, of North Sydney, N.S., has begun his training as an officer at Sandhurst. An accident prevented him finishing the course, but he is returning to CCTU as soon as he is again fit to undergo the rigorous course of training.

38217 - Even "tankers" must march. The sergeant-major's parade swings through the camp to the assembly area.

38218 - Tpr. J.C. "Boston" Bennett, Lynn, Mass., makes use of a pile of kit bags to catch a few minutes well-earned sleep between periods of instruction at Basic Camp. He has finished the basic course of instruction, and is moving on to the next stage.

38219 - Tpr. R.O. Hill, Toronto, and Tpr. W.A. Bailey, Gundy, B.C., have "broken up their happy home". They have passed the exacting tests of Basic Camp, and are preparing to move on to the next stage, and the next camp in their stage of training.

38220 - Lt. A.M. Gibson, Canadian Guards Regiment, is one of the officers in charge of arms instruction at the Basic Camp.

UNIT: 2 CACRU
LOCATION: Lulworth, Dorset.

38222 - It costs a great deal of money to make a proficient trooper. Much of the cost is incurred in gunnery training. Tprs. M. Klepacki, Windsor, E. McIntee, Niagara Falls, and Clarence Payne of Windsor fuse-up for a shoot.

38223 - The tanks fire on huge ranges, testing both H.E.
38224 and armour-piercing shell and shot against the targets.

UNIT: 2 CACRU
LOCATION: Ludshott, Surrey.

38225 - The Brigadier believes in being there. Discussing a
38226 problem of training are Maj. Harry C. Blanshard, Winnipeg, Brigadier T.J. Rutherford, and Lt. Douglas Pettigrew, Jacquette River, N.B.

UNIT: 2 CACRU
 LOCATION: Thursley, Surrey.

- 38227 - Smartly turned out, this troop has finished its refresher course in basic weapons, and is ready to go on to driving, gunnery and class rooms.
- 38228 - "What do you know?" -- about the weapons you will use. The syndicate on the left of the row of tables asks the class on the right. If the troopers cannot answer, they have to do the course again.
- 38229 - Tpr E. Ashton, South Porcupine, Ont., passes his test on the Browning machine gun. The examiner is Sgt. B.P. McKeowan, Windsor, Ont.
- 38230 - Troopers must learn to wreck tanks-- the enemy's-- and to avoid mines. Tpr. R.N. Lemieux, St. Charles, Ont., demonstrates his knowledge of anti-tank mines to Sgt. L.E. Kew, of Kelleher, Sask.
- 38231 - A long pull and a strong pull cocks the P.I.A.T. Tpr. G.H. Baker, Victoria, B.C., provides the pull.

UNIT: 2 CACRU
 LOCATION: Blackdown, Barracks.

- 38232 - Not the least important person of the CACRU headquarters
 38233 is Cpl. Joseph Quon of Kirkland Lake, corporal mess orderly, who sees that the staff officers have their meals on time and well cooked.

UNIT: 3 CACRU
 LOCATION: Lulworth, Dorset.

- 38234 - Harboured for the night, tanks are camouflaged against aerial observation.
- 38235 - Somebody has to do the dishes. The job is taken in rotation by the troopers.
- 38236 - Brigadier T.J. Rutherford, "E" Group Officer Commanding,
 38237 believes in the proof of the pudding in all things affecting his men. He fired all the weapons of his troops at frequent intervals, and personally checks firing ranges and training areas.
- 38238 - Tpr Roy Baker, Meaford, Ont., sees more of Southern England than most of his fellows. He is the driver of the CACRU's Officer Commanding.
- 38239 - Clean weapons will fire again, and quickly. Tpr Baldur Schaldemose, Winnipegosis, Man., and Tpr F.A.G. Morris, Port Dover, Ont., have learned this lesson thoroughly.

UNIT: 2 CACRU
 LOCATION: Thursley, Surrey.

- 38240 - Fresh air and sunlight are unavoidable in the basic camps. A sandy soil ensures a dry bed; a hedge provides protection from the wind, and the men learn to make their bivouacs comfortable.
- 38241 - Cleanliness is one of the most important factors in maintaining the high standard of fitness required in the Armoured Corps. A big multiple stove provides the means of cleaning mess tins after meals.

- 38242 - "Boom Town" has its Park Lane, a charming residential section of raw boards. Although the buildings lack architectural distinction, they keep out the rain, which is the chief consideration in a camp where the first and last interest is work.
- 38243 - "Boom Town" is proud of itself. on the side of the most important building in the camp (the cookhouse) is the municipality's arms.
- 38244 - "Boom Town" was built of packing cases for tank parts. It has its own lighting system, and a hot water system, though the system does'nt provide running hot water. There is plenty of boiling water provided by the ubiquitous Soyer stoves, a batter of which is shown.

UNIT: 3 CACRU
LOCATION: Blackdown.

- 38246 - Cpl. A.A. Perkins, Vancouver, B.C., brushes up on his wireless operation.
- 38247 - Most of the trooper's training is conducted out of doors. But there must be some classroom instruction.
38248 Cpl. A.A. Perkins, Vancouver, B.C., operates a wireless set while Tpr. G.E. Sullivan, Toronto, Ont., the instructor, checks his procedure.

UNIT: 2 CACRU
LOCATION: Thursley, Surrey.

- 38249 - It takes many rounds of ammunition to make a good
38250 tank gunner. Here one of the training tanks fires on a practice range.
- 38251 - Headquarters Staff "E" Group, front row, left to right:- Capt. A.S. Stewart, Owen Sound, Ont., Maj. J.S. Westhead, Toronto, Ont., Brigadier T.J. Rutherford, Owen Sound, Ont., Maj. G.T.R. Fitzsimon, Michipicotin, Ont., Lt. J.M. Rose, Vancouver, B.C., rear row Capt. R.T. Turner, Montreal; Lt. F.R. Roy, Montreal; Capt. A.H.D. Anderson, Montreal; Capt. J.F. Faulkner, Belleville, Ont., Lt. S.C. Way, Winnipeg, Man.
- 38252 - No good.
- 38253 - Favourite means of transportation for the commander of the Canadian Armoured Corps Reinforcement Units is the infallible "jeep". On training schemas, Brigadier T.J. Rutherford, Owen Sound, Ont., sometimes does his own driving.
- 38254 - Brigadier T.J. Rutherford, Owen Sound, Ont., surveys a tank training area from the front of one of the hundreds of training tanks under his command.
- 38255 - Same as 38251.

UNIT: 5 CACRU
LOCATION: Bagshot Park, Surrey.

38256 - Living in the open air, troopers develop huge appetites, and satisfy them with plain food. Cpl. R. Punccheon, Toronto, and Pte. G.C. Warren Concord, New Hampshire, serve Tpr. R.H. Prest, Chilliwack, B.C.

38257 - "We get lots of fresh air", writes Tpr. H.R. Harper, Oshawa, Ont., from his bivouac. Kit neatly piled, dinner over, Harper has a few minutes to tell his family his impressions.

38258 - Pte. E.C. Warren, Concord, N.H., cooks in the open. He did it in civilian life, as a woodsman.

SE258X

UNIT: 1 CACRU
LOCATION: Woking, Surrey.

38259 - As soon as a new draft arrives, paybooks are checked; Canadian money is changed into English £-s-d. Capt. A.E. Wilbur, Moncton, N.B., and S/Sgt. R. Fushner, Kingston, Ont., check the records; the money is changed by Capt. W.J. Miller Toronto, Ont.

38260 - Paper work is carried out quickly so that the men may begin their training. An assessment board decides the job for which the men are best fitted, though the process is continued all through their training. The board consists of Capt. J.P.D. Kirkpatrick, Vancouver, B.C., Capt. J.E. Davis, also of Vancouver, and Capt. R.A. Best, Opr. J.L. Vanetta, Abbotsford, B.C., tells of his army experience and civil life.

38261 - Same as #38259

38262 - Troopers are shown German weapons, and learn of the progress of the war and the function of their arm of the service in the Intelligence Rock Sgt. M.T. Palfrey, Wetaskiwin, Alta., demonstrates a Schmeisser machine pistol to Col. A.T. Paterson, Montreal, who commands a reinforcement unit.

38263 - When they have been documented, the incoming troopers are shown how to lay out their kit in the English barracks by Lt. E.W. Wrigley, Vancouver, B.C.

38264 - Capt. C.E. Davis, Vancouver, B.C., provides an brisk welcome for an incoming draft as they debus from a troop-carrying vehicle.
