- 58049 - BACKFIELD AGE AND HIS FOOTBALL FAMILY - LT. ANDY TOMMY, first footed half back of the Ottawa Rough Riders in the thirties, was on hand with three Tommy prospects when Toronto Argonauts opened the Big Four Season at Ottawa. The three Tommy children hope to follow in the footsteps of their father some day. They are, left to right, JIMMIE, PAUL and ANDY JR., and LT. TOMMY.
- 58050 - TWO MEMBERS OF THE OTTAWA ROUGHRIDERS - CPL. WILF TRIMBLE and GEORGE REAUME (right), two former Ottawa Rough Rider stars, are back with their old team and posed here for a Canadian Army photographer before the first Big Four league game at Lansdowne Park, Ottawa.
- 58051 - TORONTO TOUCHDOWN - Pictured here is a Toronto touchdown during the first Big Four game in Ottawa when Toronto Argos beat the Ottawa Rough Riders.
- 58052 - C.V.A.C. SHOPPING FOR CIVILIAN DINERS - With the $100 clothing allowance after discharge former C.V.A.C. volunteers can purchase a complete civilian wardrobe that is both practical and attractive, members of the Corps learned at a fashion show and commentary conducted recently by one of Ottawa's leading fashion authorities. Here, two C.V.A.C. volunteers are shown trying on hats, pleased that the budget recommended allows for two of them; one a tailored stetson and the other a more extreme chapeau to complement more formal attire. Left to right: Miss LORNAINE RICHARDS, Ottawa salicady; PVT. CHICK WATSON, Crapaud, P.M.I., and WPT. DAVE SLICE, of Ottawa.

58053 - PUT ON YOUR OLD KNIGHT BONNET - Who would recognize in these stylish chapeaux the uniform cap of the Canadian Women's Army Corps? C.W.A.C. volunteers themselves actually did not, when the renovated chapeau was modelled for them at a recent fashion showing in their Ottawa barracks. Left: Miss MAY BIRCHALL has a "you-wouldn't-believe-it-would-you?" glint in her eye, as she shows what can be done with a C.W.A.C. winter cap by removing the peak, turning the cap back to front and fastening the earflaps behind in a neat Dutch style bonnet for civilian wear. The cap was dyed hunters green. Right: Miss BETTY HOOKS, Ottawa, models a C.W.A.C. summer cap that she dressed up herself with a good dye and a couple of yards of pretty ribbon. What ex-Army girl wouldn't look just as pleased, wearing a tricky little pillbox like this, when she strolls down Civvy Street.

58054 - BACK TO CIVVIES - The C.W.A.C. volunteers pictured here are happy in the knowledge that the $100 clothing allowance on discharge will purchase a complete civilian wardrobe that is both practical and attractive. The budget recommended by designers and stylists includes a basic suit and dress, a date dress, shoes, gloves, bag, two hats, and allows for dyeing and remodelling the Army greatcoat and uniforms. Here, an Ottawa saleslady, Miss LUCILLE TRUDIL, displays two attractive light wool dresses for PFC. BRUCE FURUSON, Crapaud, P.E.I., while SGT. DONN ELLIOT, Ottawa, admires the new-style tuxedo coat.

58055 - PLANNED BUDGET FOR DISCHARGED C.W.A.C. - With the $100 clothing allowance after discharge, former C.W.A.C. volunteers can purchase a complete wardrobe that is both practical and attractive, says Miss EVELYN THILL, stylist and fashion show commentator of a large Ottawa departmental store. Miss THILL is pictured here describing the model budget to Capt. WALTER McLELLAN, Victoria, B.C., officer commanding No. 12 Admin Unit, Canadian Womens' Army Corp. The budget allows for dyeing and altering the Womens' Army greatcoat, caps and uniforms.

58056 - TIPS IN THE BUDGET - Attractive BETTY HADEN, Ottawa, models a turquoise crepe "date dress" during a fashion show and commentary when one of Ottawa's leading stylists advised members of the Canadian Womens' Army Corps on purchasing a complete civilian wardrobe with the $100 clothing grant allowed ex-servicewomen on discharge. The budget recommended purchase of a suit, tailored or dressmaker style ($15.95); dress ($10.95); basic dress ($8.95); date dress ($10.95); two hats at $2.95; blouse ($2.95); sweater ($1.95); 3 prs stockings at $1 and $2; handbag ($4.75); scarf ($1.50); shoes $8.50; and allows $7.00 for dyeing and altering Army greatcoat and uniform. Balance of $8.65 permits purchase of incidentals.

58057 - REMODELLED C.W.A.C. GREATCOAT - Discharged C.W.A.C. volunteers are sure to feel quite at ease in civilian togs like this, for they won't be discarding their uniforms altogether. Shown here is a renovated Army greatcoat, with back plait removed, six inches of flare cut out, and brass buttons replaced by plastic ones. This model has been dyed a soft hunters green. The hat too was originally Army issue. With peak removed and turned back to front, the earflaps fasten behind to form a smart Dutch-style chapeau for the Army girls to wear on civvy street. Miss MAY DINCHALL, Ottawa, modelled the outfit at a fashion show for C.W.A.C. personnel in Ottawa recently.

58058 - ONTARIO LPWS COMING HOME - These happy liberated prisoners of war who recently flew across the Pacific to San Francisco, reached Vancouver Tuesday en route home. Here they pose for the photographer beside the railway coach that bore them from the California city. All members of the famed Royal Rifles of Canada, they are shown here in front row (left to right) RPN. C.H. McKEE, Chapleau, Ont.; RPN. J. S. GREEN, Trenton, Ont.; RPN. C.A.
