 59550 and chief delegate to the United Nations conference from Canada, is shown here making a special broadcast report on the progress of the conference to date from the BBC studios on Sunday.

Though Canada failed to gain a seat on the Security Council following a deadlock with Australia in the voting for the sixth seat, the Cdn delegate made a profound impression on the conference by voluntarily withdrawing Canada's name and thereby facilitated Australia's entry to the Council. The action by Canada was the first obviously unselfish move in the conference to date, and may help to provide a more secure basis for negotiations for world peace in the ensuing days.
