Location L Area of Castel Frantano

StoryIA real O/Pip working with Cdn Art'y on the Orsogna Front

- 29551 - The end of a 25 yard run ease back on the controls and the machine is airborne. Though, in the opinion of the pilots, not the best aircraft for this job, this English version of the American plane is fairly manoeuvrable. In peacetime, the firm that is now making these machines was a well known manufacturer of perambulators.
- 29552 - After buzzing about in the air long enough to report the unit shooting the result of the fire, the pilot comes home to prepare a more detailed report for the CCRA. From midget plane to midget car Capt. Chase of London heads for the billets nearby in an Italian farmhouse and a brew of Canadian coffee.
- 29554 - While the O/Pips are up doing the job and relaying information the gun control posts relay to the guns a necessary correction. Often, as here only a few guns in the Regt register targets and when found "On" the angles of sight are logged and used by other guns in the final shoot. From this dug in position on the reverse slope of a hill a precaution against counter Bty casualties. Lieut. David Armour of Erindale and Toronto shouts his orders to his guns. At the radio in communication with the pilot above is L/Bdr. Aby, Castel Cornwall Ont., watching the plane is Bdr. Barney Little from Portage LaPrairie Man., and in No.5 Lieut. Leonard Rasberry of Montreal.
- 29557 - As soon as the plane has flown over the gun positions and netted in, the bells ring and the cry goes up. "Action stations". On the call everything else stops and from all directions the men come on the run. The Canadian gunners had just started one of the many daily brews, when the call for his bombard came. A "bombard" is a concentrated, counter battery fire and a "Murder" is a heavy rapid blow against previously ranged targets.
- 29558 - Pix of 25 pounder and its three men crew during one of the A/OP shoots. To keep up with the continual pounding of enemy positions, gun crews split up and work 12 hour shifts and while 3 men stay on call the other spend the time sleeping in their dug outs.
- 29559 - Gnr. Douglas Hat of St. Catharines Ont., on guard outside of the Battery Command Post. Because of bad weather conditions and accompanying ground adversitie artillery in this theatre has been forced to dig in as protection against the flying shaprnel of counter battery shoots. This command post on the reverse side of a hill on the outskirts of Castel Frantano with its sand bagged walls is proof against anything save a direct hit.
- 29560 - Gun firing during a snow storm version of a "MURDER".

- 29562 - Coming home from after a shoot. An O/P flying to coming in position from above the ruins of Ortona, after the completion of a shoot on the flats of Francavilla by Cdn Fd and Med Regts.
- 29563 - Taxing after landing on the narrow sandy strip between sea and the steep cliffs on which Ortona proper is built.
- 29564 - In the cockpit of the Auster 111 the pilot makes a check
29565 - of the target on the map. He then informs the shooting unit that he is about to take off to direct fire. Before being trained as a pilot Capt. Pat Thompson was a English Artillery Officer as a troop officer.
- 29566 - Another Canadian shoot completed and the pilot goes to ACRA to turn in his reports of possible fire results. Here in the Canadian area of Ortona the pilot works almost exclusively with Canadian Regiments.
- 29567 - Coming in for the landing on Ortona beach. gb.
- 29568
29569 - Looking somewhat like a postage stamp from the air the landing field cleared by R.C.E. on the beach of shattered Ortona harbour actually makes a smooth and serviceable airfield. Rain does no harm to it and it is within a few moments flying time of both our guns and the enemy positions.
- 29570
29571 - In the area of Orsogna Guardiagrele and Arielle, another flight is working with Canadian gunners. At the start of each day the flight commander gets his instructions and R.C.A., H.Q., and other details of coming shoots. Being briefed at H.Q. in Castel Frantano two pilots. Capt. Pat Henderson of Laughton; Coupar Angus and Capt. N.H. Chase of London and Harrow get the days briefing from the B.M. Major Ted McNaughton of Ottawa.

Story: Before and after Pic taken of wounded
Location: North of Ortona at an R.A.P. at the Front.

NOTE: I was doing some work at an R.A.P. (Seaforth Highlanders) at the front when three officers of the American Field Service drove up in a jeep to visit one of their ambulance driver's attached to the RAP (Volunteer J.B. Chaffee Providence, R.I.) They were about to drive off when on the Seaforth M.C.'s suggestion, I pressed them to stay for a photograph. As soon as the photos were taken I walked into the RAP; they stepped into their jeep. A mortar bomb fell 17 feet from the ambulance (the jeep was parked nearby) wounding one of the visitors severely and wounding another in the head (minor wound) also a Seaforth first aid man who was nearby and a major from the Pay Corps. First of two pix are posed beside ambulance and show all the men involved. Others show wounded men and ambulance after bomb fell. These could well be used in short series ,before and after...Ro.

- 29740 -Captain Payne and Sgt. Warden (with head bandaged) talking outside RAP after Warden's wounds treated.
- 29741 -Sgt. Warden was seated in back seat of jeep unable to get out in time when he heard bomb coming. He was hit by shrapnel in back of head and is shown in RAP having it dressed.
- 29742 -The ambulance, standing only few feet from the RAP was ruined by the blast, temporarily at least. All tires were flattened the gas tank punctured, body and engines plastered with shrapnel. Bomb fell on side opposite the one picture (1) and (2) were taken on. eb
In this pic taken few minutes after bomb fell Pte. Stanley Larsen a Seaforth first aid man from Bella Villa B.C. is standing in the mortar hole, ambulance shows in background.
- 29743- Captain Flahiff, E.W., of Toronto 3rd F.D.S. pointing out shrapnel holes in door and window of ambulance. The driver had left the cab. Only he and Capt. Payne escaped injury. Elapsed time between pic 1 and 2 and the following about 3 minutes.
- 29744 -Hobbs leaving RAP on stretcher for evacuation to a M.D.S. down the line.
- 29745- Hobbs, his back peppered with shrapnel shown in RAP receiving a hypodermic from first aid Corp Quinton Carsell Vancouver Seaforths. Hobbs had been through Africa war without wounds. He received most of shrapnel as it caught him leaping for cover from the jeep. Also wounded face, legs, chest.
