RG30	180797	6503; 6505-6507; 6509-6514; 6516- 6519; 6522-6532		Miscellaneous Records relating to the Museum Train Collection	These records include a variety of media relating to the museum train collection for the period 1832-1953. In 1953, Canadian National Railways prepared a museum train which toured Canada and portions of the United States. The locomotives and cars were museum specimens and the cars contained a very large display of historical records, illustrations, objects and memorabilia relating mainly to Canadian National Railways and its corporate predecessors. In 1968 this material, with the exception of some three-dimensional objects which are on loan to the National Museum of Canada, was transferred to the National Archives of Canada. There are over 700 items, many containing more than one document or picture. They include timetables, tickets, publications, passes, photographs, illustrations, correspondence and railway working documents and records. Also included are records of the museum train itself.
