							Looking south down Bates Lake with the end of Mush lake in the left foreground. The Bates river drains the lakes round to the right to the Alsek river and a low pass goes through to the left to the Tatshenshini river. Mr. Washburn believes many of the points on the skyline to be over 10,000 and refers to it at the "Dalton Range". This range extends northwest - southeast across the Provincial Boundary between the Alsek and Tatshenshini rivers.
