

Media Support	Volume	Item no No pièce	Access code Code d'accès	Title Titre	Terms of use Modalité d'utilisation	Extent Étendue	Additional name Nom additionnel	Place of publication Lieu de publication	Language Langue	Dates
Photo	1	1	90	An abandoned multi-storey building in Kabul shelters hundreds of refugees. Girls on the second floor look down on the others below	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Kabul, Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	1	2	90	Malalai (center) celebrates the circumcision of her five-year-old son with women and children at her home in Kandahar	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Kandahar, Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	1	3	90	Gulsuma was four years old when her stepfather sold and married her to a six-year-old boy in Kandahar. She was beaten, isolated, and treated as a slave by his family for the next seven years until she escaped one night after her father-in-law threatened to kill her	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	1	4	90	At the age of twenty, Zahra wanted to show her husband how desperate and miserable she was. Married for only a few months, enduring regular physical abuse and isolated from her family, Zahra doused herself in cooking oil and held out a lit match in front of her husband. At that moment, a gust of wind came through the house and Zahra was engulfed in flames	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	1	5	90	Shaima, a television host at a popular TV station in Kabul, was shot dead in her home at the age of twenty-four. Shaima was not married, had no children, and was considered liberal minded by her immediate and distant family. At the time of her death, her brothers were held for suspicion of murder	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	1	6	90	Sabza Gul reaches for garlic in her village home near Bagrami, where she lives alone. During the Taliban regime, she stepped on a landmine meters from her front door while on her way to milk cows in preparation for a family celebration	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	1	7	90	A woman holds a photograph of her mother taken in Kabul in the 1960's	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	1	8	90	A woman mourns her daughter at a cemetery in Kabul two weeks after the daughter allegedly committed suicide by setting herself on fire and throwing herself from a second storey window. The mother believes the girl's husband killed her. Cases like these are often left unresolved	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Kabul, Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	1	9	90	A group of young girls study the Koran at a mosque in Istalef	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Istalef, Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	1	10	90	[Canadian soldiers in the field with a Howitzer]	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	1	11	90	Soldiers from the 4th Battalion of the Afghan National Army attend a class on map-reading and navigation	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	1	12	90	Afghan military training	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	1	13	90	Afghan military training	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Afghanistan	English	2004-2006

Media Support	Volume	Item no No pièce	Access code Code d'accès	Title Titre	Terms of use Modalité d'utilisation	Extent Étendue	Additional name Nom additionnel	Place of publication Lieu de publication	Language Langue	Dates
Photo	1	14	90	[Canadian soldier walking amongst women and children in Kabul]	Credit: Lana Slezcic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezcic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezcic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Kabul, Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	1	15	90	[Canadian medic in Kabul examines a baby while surrounded by children]	Credit: Lana Slezcic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezcic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezcic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Kabul, Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	1	16	90	ETT [Embedded Training Team; Afghan military training]	Credit: Lana Slezcic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezcic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezcic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	1	17	90	On the grounds of Camp Julien in Kabul, Canadian troops march past the shell of the Darulaman Palace, also known as the King's Palace	Credit: Lana Slezcic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezcic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezcic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Kabul, Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	1	18	90	[Canadian soldier seated in a gun lookout at the Queen's palace]	Credit: Lana Slezcic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezcic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezcic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Kabul, Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	1	19	90	[Afghan men on bicycles crossing a military checkpoint]	Credit: Lana Slezcic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezcic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezcic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	1	20	90	[Afghan men rebuilding a stone wall]	Credit: Lana Slezcic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezcic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezcic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	1	21	90	Master Corporal Patrick Auger has tea with the grandmother of a nine-month-old baby who was kidnapped from a wedding party the night Auger was on patrol on the outskirts of Kabul	Credit: Lana Slezcic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezcic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezcic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Kabul, Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	1	22	90	During a routine patrol, Master Corporal Patrick Auger drops by Le Pélican school in Kabul and chats with a student. The elementary school is run by Jacques and Ariane Hiriart, a French couple who raised young funds and founded it in 2002	Credit: Lana Slezcic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezcic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezcic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Kabul, Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	1	23	90	[Two Canadian soldiers on patrol, and speaking to three Afghan children]	Credit: Lana Slezcic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezcic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezcic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	1	24	90	[Canadian soldiers patrolling inside the Queens palace]	Credit: Lana Slezcic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezcic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 11 x 14 in.	Slezcic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Kabul, Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	2	25	90	A woman at the Chaman Babrak refugee settlement in north Kabul. At the end of the Taliban regime, thousands of returning refugees found rubble where their homes once stood. This has forced them to live in camps throughout the city	Credit: Lana Slezcic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezcic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 16 x 20 in.	Slezcic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Kabul, Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	2	26	90	A woman waits to be checked for weapons and bombs at security checkpoint outside the main courthouse in Kabul	Credit: Lana Slezcic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezcic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 16 x 20 in.	Slezcic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Kabul, Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	2	27	90	A prostitute stands behind a curtain in the house where she works. Prostitution is illegal and there are grave consequences for those who are discovered practicing it	Credit: Lana Slezcic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezcic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 16 x 20 in.	Slezcic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Afghanistan	English	2004-2006

Media Support	Volume	Item no No pièce	Access code Code d'accès	Title Titre	Terms of use Modalité d'utilisation	Extent Étendue	Additional name Nom additionnel	Place of publication Lieu de publication	Language Langue	Dates
Photo	2	28	90	A prostitute in Kabul. Decades of war have left thousands of women widowed. Many have turned to prostitution as the only means to support their children. If discovered, these women could be killed by their families to maintain the honour of the family name	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 16 x 20 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Kabul, Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	2	29	90	Wind blows through a temporary school for girls in the old Kabul theatre. The theatre was destroyed during conflict in Kabul	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 16 x 20 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Kabul, Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	2	30	90	On the morning of her wedding, Samia, sixteen, spends one last day with her family at their home in Kabul. As is typical in many forced marriages, Samia's fiancé and his family have forbidden her to continue her high school education. Samia will live with her new husband and his entire family and be restricted from seeing her own family	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 16 x 20 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Kabul, Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	2	31	90	On the day of the first democratic elections in Afghanistan, women sit down to rest after voting at a polling station in Kabul. Most women are illiterate and understand neither the election process nor the idea of a governing body. Instead, many of them are told by their husbands, fathers, and brothers who to vote for	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 16 x 20 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Kabul, Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	2	32	90	Party clothes for special occasions become everyday attire out of necessity	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 16 x 20 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	2	33	90	A mother embraces her sick daughter in a typical village home in Badakshan province	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 16 x 20 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	2	34	90	Afghans believe that the water in the Band-e-Amir lake in Bamiyan province has healing powers. When women cannot conceive, their husbands take them to the lake, tie ropes around their waists, and submerge them three times quickly. Since most Afghans can't swim, the rope is used to yank the women out of the water so they don't drown	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 16 x 20 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	2	35	90	Malalai, a mother to six children, was the first policewoman in Kandahar. Her father was a police officer and her grandfather was the head of their village. Unlike other women in the region, Malalai works alongside men, apprehending criminals in one of the most dangerous cities in the nation	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 16 x 20 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Kandahar, Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	2	36	90	Woman from the nomadic Kuchi tribe gather their belongings and prepare to steal wheat from a neighbouring farmers field near Gardez. Kuchi women are illiterate and little or no access to education or health care. They live in tents with their families and move from region to region to feed their livestock	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 16 x 20 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	2	37	90	[Canadian soldier on patrol, and speaking to five Afghan children]	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 16 x 20 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	2	38	90	[Canadian soldier, and two Afghan women, walking down a road]	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 16 x 20 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Afghanistan	English	2004-2006
Photo	2	39	90	[Canadian soldiers with Howitzers. One of the Howitzers has just been fired]	Credit: Lana Slezic / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezic.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 16 x 20 in.	Slezic, Lana,°d1973- (photographer)	Afghanistan	English	2004-2006

Media Support	Volume	Item no No pièce	Access code Code d'accès	Title Titre	Terms of use Modalité d'utilisation	Extent Étendue	Additional name Nom additionnel	Place of publication Lieu de publication	Language Langue	Dates
Photo	2	40	90	[Afghan man on a bicycle, with a Canadian soldier walking behind him, and the King's palace in the background]	Credit: Lana Slezić / Library and Archives Canada / copy no. ; Copyright: Lana Slezić.	1 photograph : colour giclée on archival paper ; 16 x 20 in.	Slezić, Lana, °d1973- (photographer)	Kabul, Afghanistan	English	2004-2006