Robert Sward fonds: new accession

Introduction

This accession was received in August 1991. Most 'files' containing only one work were identified by the author, although correspondence is frequently mixed in with drafts of manuscripts. Several 'files' identified as containing drafts of several works and/or correspondence, were sorted into 'works,' 'correspondence,' 'activities,' etc.

The organization described below maintains the division into two boxes but within this basic division, logic has taken precedence over 'original order.'

Further work will be required to organize the correspondence by writer, and to order the individual works and the successive drafts of each work.
